V. Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	NONE	YES
	Claims	1-48	NO
Inventive Step (IS)	Claims	NONE	YES
	Claims	1-48	NO
Industrial Applicability (IA)	Claims	1-48	YES
	Claims	NONE	NO

2. citations and explanations

Claims 1-48 lack novelty under PCT Article 33(2) as being anticipated by Lajoie et al.(US 5,850,218).

Regarding claim 1, LaJoie discloses a programmable television services client device for enabling a user to navigate to an individual television service, the client device coupled to a programmable television services server device (see Abstract), the client device comprising:

- memory for storing data (Fig.3, element 32);
- an interactive program guide contained in the memory for displaying program information received by the client device from the server device(Col.13, lines 45-50);
- configuration information contained in the memory that includes a plurality of initial guide arrangements as a selected guide arrangement (Col.5, lines 23-40); and
- a processor configured to cause the client device to display the program information according to the selected guide arrangement, the processor responsive to the interactive program guide, the configuration information, and the first user input (Col.5, lines 10-22 and Col.13, lines 3-55).

Regarding claim 2, LaJoie further discloses wherein the selected guide arrangement is configured in a time format (Fig.16), including a centered and highlighted lowest channel (Fig.16, element 392) of a plurality of channels in a channel portion of the initial guide arrangement and a listing by time of future programs in a main program display portion (Fig.16, element 366) of the initial guide arrangement corresponding to the plurality of channels shown in the channel portion of the initial guide arrangement (Col.23, lines 44-Col.24, lines 51).

Regarding claim 3, LaJoie further discloses, wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a current time format including a highlighted program on the current viewing channel of a plurality of channels in said channel portion in said subsequent guide arrangement and a listing by time of current and future programs in a main program display portion (Continued on Supplemental Sheet.)

TIME LIMIT:

The time limit set for response to a Written Opinion may not be extended. 37 CFR 1.484(d). Any response received after the expiration of the time limit set in the Written Opinion will not be considered in preparing the International Preliminary Examination Report.

V. 2. REASONED STATEMENTS - CITATIONS AND EXPLANATIONS (Continued):

of said subsequent guide arrangement corresponding to the plurality of channels in a channel portion of the subsequent guide arrangement.

Regarding claim 4, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a user-configured time format including a highlighted program (Fig. 16, element 392) on a user pre-configured viewing channel of a plurality of channels in the channel portion in the subsequent guide arrangement and a listing by time of current and future programs in a main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (Fig. 16, element 366) corresponding to the plurality of channels in a channel portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (Col. 23, lines 44-Col. 24, lines 51).

Regarding claim 5, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement with a menu of ordering formats selectable by a user overlaid on the channel portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (Fig. 19, Col. 26, lines 27-65+).

Regarding claim 6, LaJoie further discloses wherein the selected guide arrangement is configured in a theme format displaying a first alphabetical theme in a theme portion of the initial guide arrangement and a plurality of future programs in a main program display portion of the initial guide arrangement corresponding to the first alphabetical theme shown in the theme portion of the initial guide arrangement (Fig. 20, Col. 26, lines 47-65+).

Regarding claim 7, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a current theme format including a highlighted current viewing program for a current time slot centered in a main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and a theme category corresponding to the current viewing program in a theme portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (Fig. 20, Col. 26, lines 47-Col. 27, lines 62).

Regarding claim 8, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is responsive to a subsequent user input to display a new theme not corresponding to the current viewing program in the theme portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and a plurality of future programs in a main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement corresponding to the new theme (Col. 27, lines 8-35).

Regarding claim 9, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a user-configured theme format including a user pre-configured theme-highlighted in a theme portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and programs corresponding to the user pre-configured theme in the main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (Fig. 20 and 21; Col. 6, lines 4-45; Col. 27, lines 8-35).

Regarding claim 10, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement with a menu of ordering formats selectable by a user overlaid on the theme portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (Fig. 19-21; Col. 26, lines 26-65+).

Regarding claim 11, LaJoie further discloses wherein the selected guide arrangement is configured in a title format displaying a first alphabetical category in a title portion of the initial guide arrangement and an alphabetical listing by time of a plurality of programs in a main program display portion of the initial guide arrangement corresponding to the first alphabetical category (Col. 27, lines 64-Col. 28, lines 25).

Regarding claim 12, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a current title format including a highlighted current viewing program for a current time slot centered in the main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and a title category in the title portion of the subsequent guide arrangement corresponding to the current viewing program (see Fig. 16).

Regarding claim 13, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is responsive to a subsequent user input to display a new title category not corresponding to the current viewing program in the title portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and an alphabetical listing by time of a plurality of programs in the main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement corresponding to the new title category (see Fig.17).

Regarding claim 14, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a user-configured title format including a user pre-configured title highlighted in a theme portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and programs corresponding to the user pre-configured title in the main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (see Fig.20-21; Col.6, lines 4-45; Col.27, lines 8-35).

Regarding claim 15, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement with a menu of ordering format selectable by user overlayed on the title portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (see Fig.22-23).

Regarding claim 16, LaJoie further discloses wherein the selected guide arrangement is configured in a browse-by menu format including a menu of ordering formats selectable by a user (Col.5, lines 59-Col.6, line 65) .

Regarding claim 17, LaJoie further discloses wherein a default menu format is a browse-by time format including a listing of future programs in a main program display of the initial guide arrangements (see Fig.16-17).

Regarding claim 18, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a current time format selectable from the browse-by menu, the current time format including a highlighted current viewing channel of a plurality of channels in the channel portion in the subsequent guide arrangement and a listing by time of current and future programs in a main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement corresponding to the plurality of channels in a channel portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (Fig.16, Col.13, lines 5-65 and Col.23, lines 44-Col.24, lines 51).

Regarding claim 19, LaJoie further discloses wherein the default menu format is a browse-by theme format including a listing of future programs in main program display of the initial guide arrangements (see Fig.20-21).

Regarding claim 20, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a current theme format selectable from the browse-by menu, the current theme format including a current viewing program for a current time slot highlighted in a main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and a theme category corresponding to the current viewing program in a them portion of the subsequent guide arrangement (see Fig.21).

Regarding claim 21, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is responsive to a subsequent user input to display a new theme not corresponding to the current viewing program in the theme portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and a plurality of future programs in a main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement corresponding to the new theme (see Fig.20).

Regarding claim 22, LaJoie further discloses wherein a default menu format is a browse-by title format including a listing of future programs in a main program display of the initial guide arrangements (see Fig.22).

Regarding claim 23, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is further responsive to a subsequent user input to display a subsequent guide arrangement in a current title format selectable from the browse-by menu, the current title format including a current viewing program for a current time slot and highlighted centered in the main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and a title category in the title portion of the subsequent guide arrangement corresponding to the current viewing program (see Fig.22).

Regarding claim 24, LaJoie further discloses wherein the processor is responsive to a subsequent user input to a new title category not corresponding to the current viewing program in the title portion of the subsequent guide arrangement and an alphabetical listing by time of plurality of programs in the main program display portion of the subsequent guide arrangement corresponding to a new title category see Fig.20-21).

Regarding claims 25-48, the method claims 25-48 is analyzed with respect to the above apparatus claims 1-24.

Claims 1-48 have Industrial applicability as defined by PCT article 33(4), because the subject matter claimed can be made or used in Industry.
